

Travel Designer India launches B2B global reservation system

TRAVEL DESIGNER INDIA | A B2B & user-friendly global reservation system - 'RezLive' - has been launched by Travel Designer India, an organisation based in Ahmedabad with its network offices in New Delhi, MP and Mauritius.

TT BUREAU

Incorporated in 1999, Travel Designer India is well-known for their Dubai and Middle East packages and incentives. Commenting on the recently-launched global reservation system, Kalpesh Shah, chairman and joint managing director of Travel Designer India, said, "We have been working closely only with travel partners in India. RezLive has been designed to empower our fellow trade partners with real time availability across the globe on wholesale rates. The system is designed with a sub-agents but their corporate and retail clients also. In a joint venture with technology provider Qtech Software, we have launched a full fledge IT Wing - QRez which will be handling all IT related request and support. The online version is launched with Multilayer Hotel Reservation System and will be updated with other travel related services by end of this year to make it - one click travel planner." "Technologies for travel industry are very challenging and it is changing day by day. In-depth knowhow of the current trade from Travel Designer and our knowledge and platform in IT will make our venture a success," said Paresh Parihar, director of Qtech Software.

The company has launched a full fledge IT Wing - QRez which will be handling all IT related request and support.

view to protect full interest and confidentiality of travel partners with facility to print confirmations and vouchers with their own logo and contact details.

According to Jaal Shah, joint managing director, Travel Designer, "In order to facilitate

RezLive

- Has been designed to empower our fellow trade partners with real time availability on Wholesale Rates
- Will offer a white-label product which can be beneficial not only to their sub-agents but their corporate & retail clients also regional wholesale agents and agents working on the sub-agent network; RezLive will offer a white-label product which can be beneficial not only to their

