

RezLive.com hosts agent networking event in New Delhi

By TBM Staff | New Delhi

The Travel Designer Group recently hosted an Agent Networking event in Hot Mess, New Delhi, which was attended by leading travel agents and tour operators from Delhi and NCR region, followed by evening supper. The event was held to appreciate the never ending response from the local travel trade and also acted as a platform to discuss company's future offerings. The event also helped the RezLive.com team to listen to the useful suggestions provided by the local travel trade and looked for the possibilities to grow business mutually.

Jaal Shah, Group Managing Director, Travel Designer Group, firstly appreciated the local travel partners for the overwhelming support they have received from Delhi and NCR market and highlighted the importance of sustaining and strengthening the solid foundation that they share with Travel Designer Group. He elaborated on the future plans of the company and how we can mutually benefit each other to prosper ahead. Lastly he said that Travel Designer Group understands the importance of its travel partners and always tries to offer them something innovative.
